HOWARD I. SCHERAGA, eminent professor of physics at Yale University, works on the new, atom-smashing linear accelerator built at Yale under his direction. Yale physicists have already attained energies of one million volts in the new machine, which is expected to unlock new secrets of the atom. Instead of using heavy particles of matter to smash the atom at high speeds, the linear accelerator works on the principle of using the electron — the lightest negatively charged particle of the atom — to smash the nucleus.

Goal Set

Lindsay March 13 (1917)

Ontario Agriculture Minister

T. Kennedy has set Ontario's goal for the year 1948 production

goal at the opening of the three-day conference held in Lindsay,

Ontario.

With this announcement

Kennedy revealed that the Ontario

Government was embarking on an

"all-out campaign" to end Ontario's dependence on Western Canada for large supplies of feed grain.

More than ten thousand farmers and city residents heard the Ontario Agriculture Minister's speech over a 10-day period.

The goal has been set at 200-million bushels of feed grain—20-million more than the average crop over a 10-year period.

goal at the opening of the three-

Toronto St. Mike's Outclass Jrs. 13-6

Closing out with an eight goal victory in the last period, the Junior "A" Toronto St. Mike's hockey team defeated Lindsay Junior "C" 13-6 in a 4th exhibition game at the Arena, Tuesday night. Steve Brown and Don are the best scorers with four goals each, brother opponents for 10 minutes—and then are shown off under in the last half.

Catch the Bruins to be returned to Lindsay, saw his own play the starting lineup in the first period as it slugged in a goal-mouth pass. Bill Dwyer led it up for Lindsay in 15-4 on assists from Robinson and MacLean. The first period went very hot and rugged with three of the four penalties handed out coming in the opening 12 minutes. St. Mike took the lead again open in the second session when Robinson broke in fast for a marker. Frankie McPhee, who ended the heat out all night, tied it up when he checked an Irish opponent and moved in the same motion. Barry and McAlister put values up to 4-2 after attack began. Bill Dwyer got the second of the night for Lindsay when he scored on Barry Connor. The same while Chas was off for holding Robinson, St. Mike took the lead again when he scored on Barry Connor. ## Arab Volunteer Leader Surveys "Invasion" Army PARVEZ BUIY IS KAWKIBI (right), leader of the Arab volunteer armies, and member of his staff watch military maneuvers in southern Syria not far from the Palestine border. Volunteers are being trained for possible armed intervention in the current disorders in Palestine.

"BEWARE THE IDES OF MARCH"

YOUTHFUL LOOK — Delicate plaited ruffles edge collar, paphum and pockets of jacket of printed crepe ensemble in warm golden brown shade with small conventionalized motifs of black and white, dress has high round neckline and oval yoke edged in the plaited ruffling, a slim midriff and softly-full skirt. Jacket has wide smooth shoulders, slim sleeves and contour-carving lines.

THINGS AREN'T SO BAD — That's the impression Prof. Armand Denjoy of the University of Paris, said in an interview in Montreal recently. He said that Western Europe probably would not be able to stand up against Russian military might, but added he did not believe the USSR "is planning to begin a new war, either now or for some time." Prof. Denjoy, also said the mathematician, can get back on her feet — and without any major political upheavals. The Frenchman, 64-year-old Professor Armand Denjoy, one of France's mathematical "greats" is in Montreal for a four-day visit as part of a tour which has taken him to Romania, Bulgaria, Turkey, Haiti and the U.S. in the past four months.

The military book to end all military books... Recently a picture from the U.S. was printed in many Canadian newspapers showing what was claimed to be the smallest book in the world. Mrs. A. O. Jowett of Montreal said it, and she was not taking statements like that lying down. She showed her best newspaper to say her husband had one that was even smaller. Judging by the photo above, her record in photo-book is going to be hard to beat. The book, which is smaller than a postage stamp — measuring three-eighths four eighths inches, contains poems by Rudyard Kipling.

"Abdication Was Forced on Me" — Michael

Smiling EX-KING MICHAEL, of Romania, is not counted by newsmen in London as he issued a statement recently to the effect that his abdication was forced on him and that he does not consider himself bound by it. Now on route on the Queen Elizabeth to the United States, he said his abdication was urged by two members of the Romanian cabinet.

Arabs in Readiness for Palestine "Invasion"

A huge Arab army has been reported gathering in the desert in Syria, just across the border from northern Palestine. Sources in Damascus indicate an invasion is near. This photo, taken near Nablus, Palestine, where many Syrian and Iraqi Arabs have already gathered, shows officers pointing to an objective before giving orders to fire.

A RECORD BREAKER—The Canadian have just emerged from a year in which employment was at its all time high according to the Monthly Commercial Letter of the Dominion of Canada. It is a reflection on the quality of the information contained in this very valuable bulletin.

Employment and Payrolls in 1947

The employment record of the past year was the best in the history of the country. It began in 1947 by a 1944 accelerated rapidly in the spring of 1947 and by October the number of persons employed in the manufacturing and construction trades was high. There was a steady tightening in the labour market from the late spring on, and by mid-August a comparison of the full employment of the entire labour force (98.5 per cent) was reached. From February on the number of full employees of the entire labour force was up as unplaced applicants declined during the September when the former were more than double the latter. After the middle of September there was a seasonal decline in unfilled vacancies which was made up by the close of the year when the previous position was reversed and unplaced applicants outnumbered unfilled vacancies three times (135,000 to 45,000). Nevertheless the number of unfilled vacancies at a higher level than at the same time in previous years. There were only 100,000 unfilled vacancies in the past year. The major shifts in the labour market and packing houses, and the total time loss from labour disputes was only about 100,000 man-hours. The unemployment rate in excess of full production, seasonal fluctuations were less marked than in normal. Labour turnover was about 10 per cent. The unemployment rate was 1.5 per cent, but a greater degree of stability was apparent toward the close of the year.

The last sentence is probably the most significant of the whole communication. It would seem to indicate that economic conditions in Canada are becoming more stable and that the danger of depression is returning. While no one hopes for a permanent recession, inflationary adjustment is not a desirable trend, a continuation of inflationary activity which creates among other things an uneconomic employment situation.

FIRE FIGHTING IN SMALL CENTRES

PRESENTS REAL PROBLEM

A Ontario, Ontario, has taken the initiative on a matter of great importance to all small communities. It concerns fire protection and in the process it has brought to the attention of the public a problem which is a real one.

There are probably thousands of other communities in Ontario which are virtually unprotected from fire. It is only necessary to turn to the columns of any newspaper to realize that the fire and the fire in isolated villages and rural communities. That some study should be directed toward finding a solution to this problem is self-evident. It is to be commended and encouraged in our efforts to seek ways and means of lessening the danger posed by fire.

It is a fact that this connection might probably be followed in every district with a lack of adequate fire fighting equipment.

It would appear reasonable to assume in tackling the problem that a solution can be reached. It may be that a number of communities are so small that it is not possible to provide them with reasonably effective fire protection. How can that be satisfactorily worked out depends on a number of factors.

However, the important thing is that a start be made. There is a very concrete need to do something of this kind. It is a very concrete need to do something of this kind. It is a very concrete need to do something of this kind.

PARABLE—The Old Grouch, who is against nearly everything, said to his son, "I think that somebody ought to stir up the spirit of the Canadian business man."

It is used to be said that the best of all worlds would fight Communism. The least sign of arbitrary exercise of power, Now, the business man is like the poor fellow who thought of the world as a whole.

This chap said to Anthony: "I found my night and had no dinner cooked. In the living room I got my dinner and had no dinner at a restaurant."

"The next night the same thing happens. Still I don't get my dinner, but I don't go to a restaurant. But, the third night, when I find the man there again, I ask him who he is and what he's doing in my house. He says: 'You keep quiet, or I'll make you a man.'"

"Now, Mr. Anthony, please tell me — can I make trouble for you?"

KREMLINS

It is out-of-date to tag the word Communism to those Canadian citizens who are on the team that is struggling to get out of the world. It is the word Shipwreck and in your community. Communism has little to do with this group of activities of Imperial Russia. Still, the word is a powerful capital letter in the world today. He and his group have largely abandoned Communism because it didn't work, but they continue to use the word as a means of getting capital letters.

The Canadians of various stages to the Left who tell themselves in any way to the purposes of Russia, are the most dangerous group of people in the world. They are the most dangerous group of people in the world. They are the most dangerous group of people in the world.

travelling agencies, summer hotel and tourist away, travel agencies in Canada are going to be looking to what the future holds in store for them. In the past much of their business has come from visitors from the United States. This year they have been looking for a new market.

The situation is not as dark as it appears on the surface. The proper method of adjustment, as indicated by a survey conducted by The New York Times which sought the answers to two basic questions: "Why do Americans come to Canada? and why do they leave?"

The survey indicated that in 1948 and in the following years, the number of Americans coming to Canada was considerably greater than the pre-war period. That Americans will be open to foreign travel is a fact. That Americans will be open to foreign travel is a fact.

for pleasure. This situation has not changed at the survey showed 61 per cent. of those who responded to the survey plan to go to the United States. This applies to those going to Alaska, Canada, Hawaii and Mexico, as well as those making inter-continental journeys.

"It is significant," The Times points out, "that more people will go abroad for educational reasons — 15.2 per cent. — than for business reasons — 8.1 per cent."

Of particular interest to Canadian hosts is the finding that when staying at a hotel, Americans take in the morning. The survey also found that Americans include meals. Furthermore, they want efficient and courteous service, and they expect good food.

It is only by catering to the likes and dislikes of the visitors from south of the border that Canadian hotels can hope to enjoy their continued patronage. It is a significant fact that Americans plan their vacations long in advance. This should be a bit that widespread and co-ordinating publicity campaigns on the part of owners and government departments is an essential.

MORE TELEPHONES SERVICE IMPROVEMENTS

GREATER VALUE TO EVERY
TELEPHONE USER

In two short years we have added over 307,000 telephones, put in hundreds of switchboards and trained thousands of people to attend and improve your telephone service.

We are adding more telephones to meet the continuing demand for service just as fast as equipment becomes available.

All this is being done in the face of rising costs. Yet, up to now, there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 15 years ago.

For this means greater value than ever before, for us, the satisfaction of providing "the best telephone service at the lowest possible cost".

THE LINDSAY RED CROSS BRANCH OF THE RED CROSS SOCIETY OF CANADA IS IMPORTANT AND OF INTEREST TO THE PUBLIC AS FOLLOWS:

- FIRST — The Branch has been successful in securing the services of Mrs. William F. Parkin, 8 Glenelg Street West, Lindsay and the use of part of her home as Headquarters for the various War Committees from all parts of the County and Town. This Office will be open for the distribution and receiving of Red Cross war material two afternoons per week, namely — Tuesdays and Saturdays as well as other reasonable times when Mrs. Parkin is at home. The many Red Cross Units which operated so splendidly during the recent War are urged to again organize, even though on a smaller basis and assist in this great work which goes on and on in Greece or War. Much of this material is now going to Britain to assist those brave people who gave their all to save Civilization so short a time ago.
- SECOND — The Annual Red Cross Campaign is now on, right across Canada from coast to coast and this Branch is participating in that drive in all parts of the County of Victoria except in the Town of Lindsay. Literature and Receipt Books have been sent to all parts of the County and all friends of Red Cross are asked to not only be ready to contribute when called upon, but to assist the person in your community to whom this literature has been sent. The Banks, too, have literature and Receipt Books as well, and you may if you wish, make your contribution direct to your local Bank.
- THIRD — A Community Chest has been organized in the Town of Lindsay to operate in and for the Town, with the purpose of making one canvass per year to cover several organizations and thus save overlapping and duplication of canvassing, and in this project the local Branch of the Red Cross forms a very real part, and are co-operating heartily with what is being done. As this is a new project in Lindsay it necessarily will take some time to organize and arrange for the annual canvass, and we are asking all Red Cross people to wait until that time, later in the year, and then be ready to assist with their time and their money and make the Community Chest a real success and thus put the Red Cross and other good organizations over the top in their objectives.

St. Patrick, U.S.A.

America's Only Corporate Monument to Irish Patron Saint Is All Ready for the Big Day

By NEA Service
St. Patrick, Me.—NEA—Brewer O'Brien, Kennedy, O'Donoghue and O'Brien have been getting ready for the Big Day.

And what other day would it be but St. Patrick's?

For St. Patrick, the town is a bit of the Emerald Isle transplanted to a spot of Missouri, springing about 10 miles from the Irish border. Among its 40 inhabitants are more than Irish people than in any other town in America.

Named for Ireland's patron saint by a band of Irish immigrants who settled the section 111 years ago, it is the only corporate monument to the U.S.A. Irish.

Head of the little frame church that dominates the community and founded, maybe by Don Driscoll, named Father Patrick O'Donoghue, who now wears a white shawl with the best of his parishioners.

For weeks, he has been busy with plans for March 17.

And on his "Pamphlet" John London, his right hand has been down to a sub stamping a green shamrock postmark on thousands of letters and packages sent to the post offices for re-mailing on St. Patrick's Day.

Since the Post Office Department granted the city special permission to use the distinctive emblem in 1910, an estimated 50,000 letters a year have been mailed to St. Patrick for special mailing.

The processed list of tourists who visit the city of St. Patrick reaches its height on St. Patrick's Day. After a morning mass, the holiday is filled with Irish songs, dances and plays depicting St. Patrick's life.

Each morning visitors to the parish are greeted by the Irish Legion and the Daughters of Erin. In the evening, the Irish Legion and the Daughters of Erin.

He Gave Up a $30,000-a-Year Job—Now He Can Afford to Be a Teacher

By MARY J. PARSONS

NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—NEA—Arthur L. Thronson gave up a $30,000-a-year job in the hope that some day he may be back in teach.

In doing so, he'll be fulfilling a life mission. Thronson now is co-chairman of NEA.

Thronson did this when he was 25, and a 25-year-old man in the money market at Columbia University for 10 years, he had been told by his father, a wealthy man, to leave the money market and go to teach.

His father told him to go to teach because he had all the practical experience in teaching.

Because of his experience, Thronson was one of the better teachers in the country. He was a member of the American Education Society, and he was a member of the American Education Society.

Thronson found that an enormous mass of young people was waiting to be educated, and that government had not done enough to educate them. He found that the government had not done enough to educate them.

Marines With Icing

By NEA Service

WASHINGTON—NEA—Last week 180 Lady Leathernecks, all third year of the 1930s who served in World War II, celebrated the 10th anniversary of the Women's Marines last month.

Meanwhile they are watching Christmas to see what will happen to a bill which calls for an Organized Reserve for women. If it passes, it will give Major Julia Hamblett, 11, director of the women's units, all set with her plans to set up 20 reserve companies, each with a complement of 100 trained women and five officers.

"Until that time," the Major says, "Women Marines, even in civilian life, can perform the equivalent of that war service by joining 'auxiliary training units' to assist the male Marine Corps Reserve."

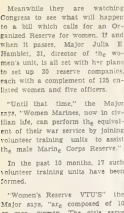

In the past 12 months, it is estimated, 100,000 women have been trained in the auxiliary training units have been formed.

"Women's Reserve VTU's" the Major says, "are composed of 10 or more women. The girls serve without remuneration but they fill a great need by assisting in the clerical and administrative work of the local men's Reserve organizations."

Major Hamblett is an old hand among the Lady Leathernecks. She was the first officer candidate to enlist in 1940 and was commissioned a first lieutenant when she was 19. She served in the 6888 Central Postal Directory in England during World War II.

She was in England on terminal leave in 1945. When she was released to her present post, she was the youngest woman in the army to hold such a job in any of the women's services.

Keep garden soil moist, and break up surface crust to keep air and water moving.

Importance of fresh air to garden plant roots has been stressed by recent scientific studies, which have proved that in porous soil the air down to a depth of eight inches is completely changed once every hour.

Both the leaves and roots of land plants breathe. When the soil in which they grow is flooded, air is excluded, and when this condition lasts too long the plant can drown, just as a fish suffocates in a tank.

Experiments have demonstrated that the older the soil, the deeper soil is cultivated, the better, however. It is firmly established that an inch, or two inches at the most, is as deep as the ground is stirred by the hoe should go down. Stirring deeper than this will only serve to disturb the roots of plants and do more harm than good.

Then Labor Progressive leaders Norma Bundy and W. C. Beuchling stepped on the platform to announce that Buck would not be speaking and the students in the audience refused to listen.

Buck was told to make a speech in the auditorium of the Mulholland Technical School but the students made it quite plain that he would get the same treatment.

100 Soon, Slow Pace Is Secret

Continued. March 24.—Pinner, president of the district, Miss Elizabeth Ward will celebrate her 100th birthday Sunday, the first person in Greenbush village to reach the mark. Still in good health, Miss Ward attributes her long life to a philosophy of "modesty and simplicity" which she terms "the common life."

Born in a log cabin on a Scotch township farm, Miss Ward moved to Greenbush in 1881. While a young girl she learned dressmaking to aid her mother in her practice until she was 60 years old. She remembers finishing clothes with a "running opening wheel," and her services were much in demand in the days when better clothes were made at home.

Joining in the Methodist church, she was one of Miss Ward's designs until recently, she was at the old sanctuary of Greenbush United Church when she was 40. Today she likes to sit by the window of her room watching people go by. A full rich life, made a cheerful outlook, and facility for helping others, she has. Typical hours, interesting work, and good food complete her agenda.

Miss Ward's sister, Mrs. Isaac Brown, 44, of Greenbush, is the only other remaining member of the family.

"I am," said Post—"I just climbed out myself."

Post was taken to Hospital in the ambulance and was treated for bruises and scratches.

Police are marvelling at the Hamilton man's luck. They say: "There isn't enough of the car left to be tested away."

War Materials For Russians Under Fire

Storero in the American Department of Commerce, says the government plans to deny down the thousands of potential war materials.

Export of industrial goods to the Soviet Union has been criticised both in and out of Congress. An inquiry into the matter is now under way by the U.S. House of Representatives.

House investigating Committee. American opinion, however, is divided. Some members believe that an overall embargo on trade to Russia would require approval of President Truman and of Secretary of State Marshall.

Justly as Soviet purchases in the United States are heavy—much more so than in any other country. On the other hand, the U.S. imports from Russia, vital chemicals and minerals, as well as diamonds, platinum and fur.

Part of the recent charge criticism of Russian exports has come from the Catholic War Veterans of America. Members of the group sent telegrams to President Truman and Congress members and congressional leaders urging them to stop to aid in all shipments to the Soviet Union except food and medicine. (NPP)

Driving Course To Cut Accidents

Prof. A. E. Newport Beta U.S.
Road Eng. At CUMHARD

The United States is reported to cost too much to kill 20,000 and permanently cripple 100,000 people on the highways of the United States each year, according to Prof. A. E. Newport, administrative head of the Institute of Public Safety, Pennsylvania State College and enthusiastic proponent of road driving tests, who is the leading supervisor training course, non-professor at the motor vehicle field being given by NICOLL University. It would be much less costly, more humane and certainly more efficient to line up this number of people and machine-kill them, according to the professor's figure. He pointed out that the yearly economic loss caused by traffic accidents in the United States was $400,000,000. From public school education, which came high, only took $2,000,000,000. Things are definitely out of proportion he believes.

Professor Newport, who has full substantiation of Canadian losses in statistics compiled by Prof. W. Arch. Bryce of the University of Toronto, who is also on the professional staff of the five-day course believed that about 60 per cent of traffic accidents are attributable to human error. Thousands of lives could be saved on North American highways each year if mechanical fitness testing were established as a standard procedure before drivers' licenses were granted.

Professor Newport stated that experiments in this direction were now underway. He said that one large firm in Toronto had cut its traffic accident loss to 20 per cent a year for three consecutive years by instituting such tests and following

History's Greatest Drama Comes Alive in Passion Play

These moving scenes depict highlights in the Black Hills Passion Play as staged in the great natural amphitheater at Spearfish, S. D. Above—Jesus' ascension to the Cross as He starts His journey to Calvary. Behind Him is the Roman centurion, with mourning hat upraised. At left, under guard, are the two thieves who were crucified with the Savior. In the center foreground stands Pontius Pilate, Roman procurator who reluctantly sentenced Jesus to crucifixion under pressure of the Jerusalem mob that chose between Christ and the rabble Barabbas. The mob was led by Caiaphas and Annas, priests of the temple, who stood on the steps behind the Cross, reviling Jesus. At right are the disciples and the children Christ blessed when He entered Jerusalem from Galilee. Below, Christ falls under the weight of the Cross. "I was here that His neighbor, Mary, met and recognized Him, crying 'My Son, my Son!'"

For many centuries, millions of people throughout the Christian world have found stirring renewal of their faith in watching the unfolding of the greatest drama of all times—the redemption of the lost souls of Jesus Christ in the Passion Play. America now claims for its own the oldest of the many Passion Play towns. This is the Black Hills Passion Play, whose home when not on tour, is the little town of Spearfish, S. D. It was originated in 1942 in Lunenburg, Germany, by the monks of Capuchin Monastery. That it is 600 years older than the famous Oberammergau play. Led by Joseph Meier, who plays the Christus, the Lunenburg players fed the hostile sinners of Hitler's Germany and came to the U. S. in 1933. After years of practicing, Meier found an ideal venue in Spearfish. His principal players then were outstanding of the passants who started the Lunenburg play. Little Meier, they became American citizens. Meier has served in the Passion story since childhood. He is the seventh generation of his family to play the Christus role.

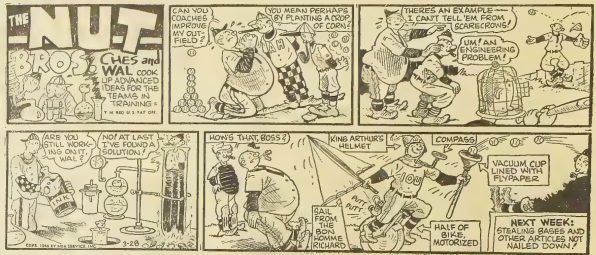

New and stirring scene in the Passion Play is the Crucifixion and the descent from the Cross. Christ's body is lowered into the arms of John as the good-thief, Mary and the Magdalene weep.
